

Recommendation Letter

To whom it may concern,

Daniel Moreira completed a 4-month internship at Nerd Monkeys as an Intern Programmer.

Nerd Monkeys is an international video game studio with 12 years of experience creating and publishing games for PC, console, mobile, and other devices.

The internship occurred under the supervision of Studio Co-Director: Rui Kremsmayr, and Creative Director: Tomás Franco, who attested to the capacities of Daniel Moreira.

During the internship, Daniel showed great interest in the projects he worked in, contributing a great amount to them. These contributions were of good quality, which showed his technical skills working in this field. He has proven to be very communicative, being able to reach out and communicate when issues or questions arise.

Daniel has proven to be a great team member, being able to work together with others in a pleasant manner. He would be a great asset to any organization needing these kinds of talents. It has been an absolute pleasure to work with him.

We wish Daniel Moreira all the best and every success in his future professional and personal life.
